

STEM Night with Elemental Minds

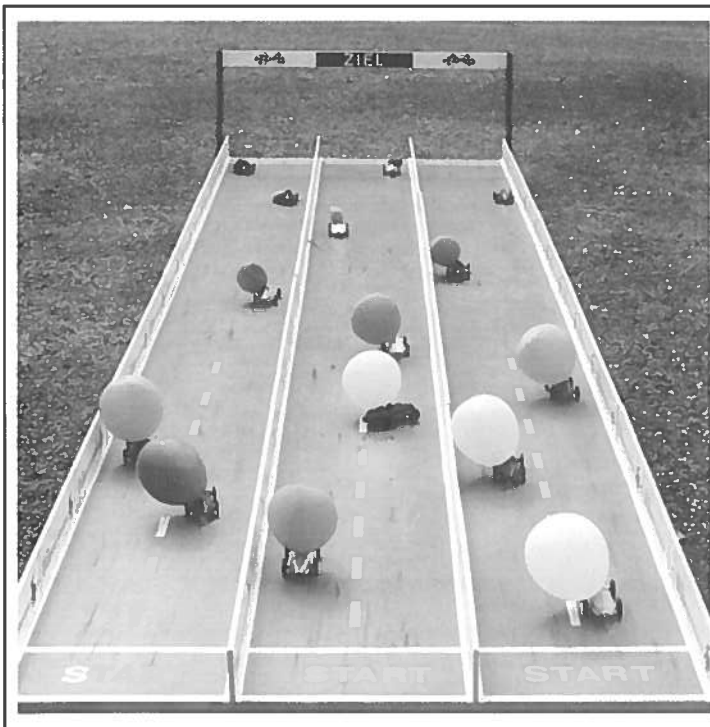

Sponsored by Koko Head Elementary School
An “Engage & Innovate” Series Event

Monday, September 25, 2017 at 6:00-7:30 p.m.
Koko Head School Cafeteria

This free “Engage & Innovate” event is for Koko Head Elementary School students and their parents/guardians. The maximum capacity for this workshop is 40 students and their parents/guardians. This is not a drop-off event. A parent/guardian is required to attend and engage with their child for the entire duration of the workshop.

Online Registration: Go to our school website, kokoheadscool.org to register starting Tuesday, September 5, 2017 until Friday, September 15, 2017. Registration is first-come first-served. Hardcopy registration confirmations will be sent home with students by September 21, 2017. Any questions? Contact our PCNC, Mrs. Stacey Lui via email at kokohead.pcnc@gmail.com.

The Elemental Minds STEM (Science Technology Engineering Math) program will help your child to become an innovator, be able to solve problems, and become adaptable to the ever changing challenges of the world.

Your child will learn how to use inquiry processes like Engineering Design and the Scientific Method, as well as integrate their knowledge to solve challenging problems at our Elemental Minds STEM Night and beyond.

The Elemental Minds programs are run by highly qualified, experienced educators who are enthusiastic, energetic, and passionate about helping to create the innovators of tomorrow! Our program is open to all children, so come and join the FUN!

STEM Night Event description:

Your child will become an automotive engineer for the day. The “Energy Efficient Automotive Company” is looking for a new fuel efficient car that will travel the straightest and farthest. Learn about concepts such as angles, air resistance, speed, and acceleration as you design your prototype to compete against the other racers. Good Luck!
